Mental Illnesses are shockingly common, affecting 1 in 20 Americans and almost every family. Age, race, gender and social class offer no protection.

Mental Illnesses are second only to Heart Disease in causing premature death and disability; affecting more individuals than Cancer.

In 2005, an estimated 21.6 million Americans aged 12 or older, or 9.1% of the total population were classified as having substance dependence or addiction. Alcohol & drugs do not discriminate.
